

GUIDELINES FOR AUTHORS

ARHE Journal for philosophy publishes strictly (previously) unpublished papers. This ground rule stands for both peer reviewed articles and book reviews, translations and other. Peer reviewed articles are accepted for publishing based on two positive anonymous reviews.

Desirable word length of articles:

- Original scientific work – 30-50.000 characters with spaces, including footnotes;
- Overview article – 20-40.000 characters with spaces, including footnotes;
- Preliminary communication – 10-20 characters with spaces, including footnotes;
- Scientific polemic – 10-15.000 characters with spaces, including footnotes;
- Book reviews, translations and other – 6-8.000 characters with spaces, including footnotes.
- Elements of the Manuscript:
 - Name and surname of the author (and co-authors),
 - Name and address of institution in which author (co-author) works,
 - E-mail address of author (and co-authors),
 - Full title (and subtitle) of the article,
 - Summary in the language in which the article is written (100-250 words) and English language (which can be more extensive, but must not surpass 1/10 of an article length),
 - - Keywords (not more than 10)
 - - Reference list (literature).

Articles should be submitted by post (one printed copy with CD) to:

Časopis za filozofiju Arhe
Filozofski fakultet Novi Sad, Zorana Đinđića 2
21000 Novi Sad, Serbia

or as an email attachment in Microsoft Word (or similar) to:

casopis.arhe@gmail.com.

We do not send back submitted articles.

References:

Recommended citation style within the article is “with footnotes”, as following:

- for books: Surname of author, Name initial of author, Title of the book, Publisher,

Place and Year, number of a page (e.g. Kant, I., Zasnivanje metafizike morala, Dereta, Beograd 2004., p. 35.);

- for book chapters: Surname of author, Name initial of author, “Chapter title” in Title of the book, Publisher, Place and Year, number of page (e.g. Hajdeger, M., „Ničeojeve reči `Bog je mrtav`“ in Šumski putevi, Plato, Beograd 2000., p. 166.);
- for proceedings: Surname of author, Name initial of author, “Title of the article” in Title of the Collection (ed. Name and Surname), Publisher, Place and Year, number of page (e.g. Riker, P., „Hajdeger i pitanje o subjektu“ in Rani Hajdeger (priredili D. Basta i D. Stojanović), Kultura, Beograd 1979., p. 150.);
- for electronic sources: Surname of author, Name initial of author, “Title of the article”, full URL and date (e.g. Kangrga, M., „Zbilja i utopija“, http://praxis.anarhija.org/index.php/Praxis:Praxis_1972_1-2:Zbilja_i_utopija_-_Milan_Kangrga, 15.6.2010.).

In the second and following quotations of the same work, publisher, place and year are excluded (e.g. Kant, I., Zasnivanje metafizike morala, p. 40), while in consecutive quotations of the same reference, footnote should only consist of ‘ibid.’ and a number of cited page.

List of references (i.e. Literature, Bibliography) should be after the text and before the English summary. Arranging style of the references is the same as in footnotes, only without number of cited page. References are listed in alphabetical order, by surnames of authors, firstly come paperback sources, then electronic editions. References should not be translated in the language of the article.